

"As a grotesque designer he has no living rival."—"LONDON ATHENÆUM."

Two Hundred Sketches.

HUMOROUS AND GROTESQUE.

by
G. Doré

LONDON;
FREDERICK WARNE AND CO.,
BEDFORD STREET, STRAND.

"As a grotesque designer he has no living-rival."--"LONDON ATHENÆUM."

Two Hundred Sketches.

HUMOROUS AND GROTESQUE.

by
G. Du Maurier

LONDON;
FREDERICK WARNE AND CO.,
BEDFORD STREET, STRAND.

The Project Gutenberg eBook of Two Hundred Sketches Humorous and Grotesque

This eBook is for the use of anyone anywhere in the United States and most other parts of the world at no cost and with almost no restrictions whatsoever. You may copy it, give it away or re-use it under the terms of the Project Gutenberg License included with this eBook or online at www.gutenberg.org. If you are not located in the United States, you will have to check the laws of the country where you are located before using this eBook.

Title: Two Hundred Sketches Humorous and Grotesque

Author: Gustave Doré

Release date: January 1, 2005 [eBook #14550]

Most recently updated: October 28, 2024

Language: English

Other information and formats: www.gutenberg.org/ebooks/14550

Credits: Produced by David Widger

 START OF THE PROJECT GUTENBERG EBOOK TWO HUNDRED SKETCHES HUMOROUS AND GROTESQUE ***

GUSTAVE DORE CARICATURES

Produced by David Widger

This Ebook Has Been Reformatted For Better Appearance In Mobile Viewers Such As Kindles And Others. The Original Format, Which The Editor Believes Has A More Attractive Appearance For Laptops And Other Computers, May Be Viewed By Clicking On This Box.

CONTENTS

TWO HUNDRED
SKETCHES,

HUMOROUS AND GROTESQUE.

BY GUSTAVE DORÉ.

THIRD EDITION.

LONDON:
FREDERICK WARNE AND CO.,
BEDFORD STREET, STRAND.

CONTENTS.

GROTESQUE SKETCHES

PICTURES OF LIFE IN THE COUNTRY

LIFE IN THE PROVINCES

LIFE IN A LITTLE PROVINCIAL TOWN

DAY SCHOOLS AND BOARDERS

NEW YEAR'S DAY

AT THE EXHIBITION OF PAINTINGS

PEOPLE WHO "GIVE THEMSELVES AIRS IN SOCIETY"

THE RACES

CONSEQUENCES OF THE LONDON EXHIBITION OF 1832

SKETCHES IN PARIS

PROPHECIES CONCERNING THE FUTURE OF THE FRENCH PEOPLE

PARIS OUT OF DOORS

SCENES IN THE CHAMPS ELYSEES

GROTESQUE SKETCHES

THE TUILERIES GARDENS

THE ENGLISH IN PARIS

EXTRACTS FROM CELEBRATED AUTHORS

A SALE BY AUCTION

SCRAPS

THINGS WE SEE AND HEAR

THINGS THAT ARE AGREEABLE

SAYINGS AND DOINGS

THE COLLEGIANS AGAIN

THE WATERS OF BADEN

PREFACE.

AMONG the many drawings by GUSTAVE DORÉ which have of late been published in England and elsewhere, comparatively few represent the Artist in the direction in which his real strength is generally confessed to lie. "As a grotesque designer," says one of the principal London literary journals, "he has no living rival, and few equals in former times;" but the works "with Illustrations by DORÉ" put forth to show his excellence, not unfrequently present him in that phase in which his peculiar talent is not exhibited to advantage.

The present volume shows GUSTAVE DORÉ as a master of the grotesque; and the Publishers appeal to the Public, to whom the volume is offered, confident in the expectation that the high estimate formed by those to whom these Sketches are already familiar, will be corroborated by the general verdict.

CONTENTS.

	PAGE
GROTESQUE SKETCHES	11
PICTURES OF LIFE IN THE COUNTRY	15
LIFE IN THE PROVINCES	17
LIFE IN A LITTLE PROVINCIAL TOWN	23
DAY SCHOOLS AND BOARDERS	31
NEW YEAR'S DAY	33
AT THE EXHIBITION OF PAINTINGS	35
PEOPLE WHO "GIVE THEMSELVES AIRS IN SOCIETY"	37
THE RACES	39
CONSEQUENCES OF THE LONDON EXHIBITION OF 1852	41
SKETCHES IN PARIS	45
PROPHECIES CONCERNING THE FUTURE OF THE FRENCH PEOPLE	47
PARIS OUT OF DOORS	51
SCENES IN THE CHAMPS ELYSEES	54
GROTESQUE SKETCHES	55
THE TUILERIES GARDENS	59
THE ENGLISH IN PARIS	61
EXTRACTS FROM CELEBRATED AUTHORS	65
A SALE BY AUCTION	66
SCRAPS	67
THINGS WE SEE AND HEAR	69
THINGS THAT ARE AGREEABLE	71
SAYINGS AND DOINGS	72
THE COLLEGIANS AGAIN	73
THE WATERS OF BADEN	79

PRIMA DONNA.

PRIMA TENORE.

BASSO PROFUNDO.

There they are! three beautiful singers, and only cost £6,000 or £7,000 a year! Why, it's ridiculously cheap!

CHORUS OF CONSPIRATORS.

Enter Conspirators. They advance, singing in loud tones that gradually increase to a shout.

"Silence!—Si-i-len-n-nee! I see the dawn of day!
Let us hasten, LET US HASTEN, LET US HA-AS-TEN-N-N AWAY!"

[And they repeat this over and over again for three-quarters of an hour.]

GROTESQUE SKETCHES.—Those who have taken too little—and too much.

CHORUS OF HUNSMEN—who have taken nothing.

TOUCHING UNANIMITY OF SENTIMENT IN A COMPANY—who have taken too much.

A DISTINGUISHED SOIREE OF AMATEURS.
Lovers of music, every one.

THE LAST GALOP BEFORE SUPPER.
Tremendous excitement!!!

"A little additional leisure will enable them to improve their minds."—Vide Philanthropic Sentiments.

BUCOLIC GAME OF BOWLS.

Parties represented—Messrs. TITYRUS, MELIBŒUS, CORYDON, STREPHON, &c.

We have our pleasures, of course. We can give our minds to improving reading—when the geese can be induced to let us alone; and we may visit the neighbouring town, fifteen miles off—when we can get a lift on the hay waggon.

There is some excitement in the chase; and here we have a variety of game animals, ranging from butterflies to blackbirds.

At first, we used to lie in wait for a stray rabbit; but they were too shy.

PICTURES OF LIFE IN THE COUNTRY.

Occasionally we used to visit the town for a day or two; but our farmer was sure to write that two planks were loose in the pigeon-house, and that he must beg we would come back at once, for he was at a standstill.

This is how two of our bucolic neighbours acted upon the advice of the local justice, who recommended them to come to an amicable arrangement between themselves on a disputed point.

This is the only available conveyance for bringing us home from the provincial town to our country seat; and just as we start we are recognized by a city acquaintance, a great stickler for appearances, with whom we are especially anxious to stand well.

M. BERNIQUET receives a letter from his friend, M. GODINOT, who requests the pleasure of his company, as he feels bored in the country.

P.S.—M. Godinot will expect him at ten o'clock to-morrow morning.

Accordingly, M. Berniquet sets out with the courier, after once more reading the last paragraph, which leaves on his mind an impression that he is "to be bored in the country."

The provincial courier having dropped him at the nearest point, M. Berniquet is gratified to hear from a native, in answer to his inquiries, that M. Godinot's "château" is only six short miles off, straight before him, after turning round by Claude's field.

On reaching the ancestral domain of Godinot, he is received, in the first instance, by a mastiff, who is evidently anxious to ascertain if his calves are those of a robber. But Godinot himself cries out from afar that the dog never bites any one who does not seem afraid of him.

Godinot's first care is to display to his guest his possessions in the way cabbage and beetroot, and to give a complete dissertation on their product. Berniquet, who has not the most distant idea of cultivating those vegetables, feels considerably bored.

Then Godinot drags him off to make acquaintance with the live stock. Berniquet would be quite satisfied if he could only get on a friendly footing with the dog.

Godinot proceeds to lecture on the antiquities in his park. Berniquet interrupts him to inquire "If his dog bites?"

But, to his great relief, a seemingly endless peal of the great bell announces that the soup is on the table.

The dinner is peculiarly strong in vegetables and fruit; and Godinot and his wife will talk nothing but agriculture, a subject which Berniquet declares to be quite out of his line.

The Godinots propose a walk. Accordingly, they march across a number of ploughed fields; and Berniquet, who suffers from corns, enjoys himself immensely, especially as the mastiff accompanies them.

Godinot, in the pride of his heart, declares that Berniquet must take home a basket of apples, which the latter has to collect. N.B.—He never eats that fruit.

At when his host suggests that gardening is a healthy employment, Berniquet pleads entire ignorance, and prefers looking at the view.

But he has to carry home a rake as heavy as a double-barreled rifle, whilst Madame Godinot leans gracefully, but heavily, on his disengaged arm.

In the evening the exciting game of loto furnishes entertainment for the company, to say nothing of the amusement afforded by a young gentleman of the neighbourhood, who, with a rich provincial accent, recounts his rabbit-shooting experiences. N.B.—He indulges in appropriate gesticulation very near the head of M. Berniquet, who is nervous.

The company retire to rest. The moon shines bright. But the moon shines over Paris too.

M. Berniquet is involuntarily compelled to observe the huge size to which insects grow in the country.

And at last—but no!—we will name the horrid creatures to which the last observation applies, and prevent our friend from sleeping.

Towards morning he has the chance of getting some sleep, but the early village cock "insists on "crowing salutation to the morn" in untimely hour ;

So he dresses himself, and comes down to enjoy the morning air, and finds that dog waiting for him again.

Under these circumstances, the guest begins to reflect seriously ;

And makes up his mind at last to take leave of his host.

But the rain begins to fall in torrents ;

And there's nothing for it but to stay.

Godinot points out that the weather is still uncertain, and entreats his friend to remain.

Diplomacy is brought into play. Berniquet writes a certain letter to the following effect: "I'm awfully bored: write and say you are dead."

Diplomacy takes effect. "Alas! my dear friend, my wife's dead. Here's her letter to tell me so."

Berniquet takes his departure, laden with the gifts of Flora and Pomona, and he notices that even the dog is loth to let him go.

SCENE IN A LITTLE PROVINCIAL TOWN.

Everybody knows everybody. Everybody bows to everybody. Everybody backbites everybody on every possible opportunity.

A LADY WHO IS "AT HOME" IN THE EVENING.

This is what they do on Monday evenings.

Here we have their amusement on Wednesday evenings.

And this is their pastime on Saturday evenings.

LIFE IN A LITTLE PROVINCIAL TOWN.

AGUERREOTYPE VIEW OF A STREET IN OUR TOWN.

"O solitude, where are the charms
That sages have seen in thy face?"

AN EXCITEMENT IS PRODUCED IN OUR TOWN.

The price of bread is officially announced.

But when THIS takes place, the excitement in our town is more easily imagined than described.

THIS IS A COMPANY OF STRANGERS ANXIOUS TO INSPECT THE "LIONS" OF OUR TOWN.
 the GUIDE (with an expression of conscious pride). "Yes, sir! people come a long way to see our fountain. There are not many like it, surely."

[The travellers think this not unlikely.]

"You may be certain of having your coat properly cut, we get the fashions here as soon as they have them Paris; in fact, we hope soon to get them before Paris."

"You see, we don't make those particular cakes here; but if you require them very much, we can send for them to Paris."

N.B.—The cakes should be eaten new.

The county magistrate, overwhelmed by the burden of public business, seeks relaxation in country pursuits of an agricultural character.

N.B.—The spade is too heavy, and the soil a stiff clay.

Anxious as you are to live at peace with your neighbours, you demur at having your apple trees robbed by predatory bands of young villagers. But you are assured that your predecessor never objected.

This is the cheerful domain of which you have become proprietor, and the noble building in the background is what your friends call your "château."

A cavalry or an infantry regiment is to be located in our town. Great public rejoicings herald its approach.

Enthusiastic householders give up their beds to Messieurs les capitaines, and are content to picnic in their own drawing-rooms.

The young ladies are seen to frequent the balconies and windows in a remarkable manner.

A grand opera is performed in our theatre, under the patronage of the officers. Cheerful and military appearance of the house.

A grand ball is, of course, organized at the Town Hall;

And the stewards, insisting that every one shall dance, set their faces against Ecarté.

The officers make a series of strategical inquiries ;

And proceed to make their bow to the mayor's lady.

Other and daughter proceed to do the honours of their hospitable mansion ;

And the young lady has an opportunity of practising the piano with accompaniments.

But the lady mother shows herself anxious to secure a son-in-law ;

Whereupon the warriors seek safety in precipitate flight,

And find themselves somewhat at a loss for amusement.

At last, one fine day, the regiment marches away.

The young ladies give way to violent grief for which, however, they find consolation the strains of Verdi.

A GOOD-NATURED SORT OF DAY SCHOLAR.

FIRST BOARDER. "I say, Pachou, don't forget to buy me my pudding and my chocolate drops!"

SECOND BOARDER. "And, I say, Pachou, don't you forget my razor!"

THIRD BOARDER. "And, I say, Pachou, don't forget to get me the 'Blood-stained Bandit of the Desolate Glen' from the library!"

DAY SCHOLAR AND BOARDER.

DAY SCHOLAR (with appropriate action). "You see, this is how we dance; we wriggle like so many worms. Ah! the fellow who's not been at one of Musard's balls has been nowhere!" And the BOARDER thinks—"Disguise thyself as thou wilt, slavery, still thou art a bitter draught!"

OUT FOR A HOLIDAY.

FOND PAPA (reading in book). "Dolphus, my boy, what's a guff?"

DOLPHUS. "They call it a gulf, papa."

FOND PAPA. "Well, what's a gulf?"

DOLPHUS. "I don't know."

This is Jean Paul Choppart, a person celebrated for his attachment to our day scholars.

YOUTH WITH PIPE IN MOUTH (to his friend). "Tha what comes of having gone to a hedge school in the p vinces. Your mamma sends a servant to take care of y Isn't it jolly?"

DAY SCHOLAR (to pining BOARDER). "Ah! it's all very well to talk of imprisonment, but see how you're kept from the allurements of the world, and from the deadly excitement of society!"

This is a Day Scholar who very frequently becomes a Boarder.

This is how old acquaintances salute each other on New Year's Day.

On New Year's Day the blouse gets fat at the expense of the black coat, which grows visibly thinner.

On this day this is how we visit our parents.

And this is how we visit our tutor.

And we of the Civil Service visit the Chief of our Department.

And we receive visits from cousins-german and non-german.

Occasionally some of our fellow creatures pay a visit to our pockets,

And receive a pressing invitation to visit the Prefect of Police.

The Momentous Question—Admitted or refused?

These artists are satisfied with their work.

This is an artist whose pictures have failed to attract attention.

These are artists whose works have been hung a very long way from the line.

Pupils of the painting school before one of their master's pictures.

This artist wonders how the idiots can admire Horace as they do.

This is the art critic! "What will he say about us?"

We need not say what has been the art opinion of this painter's work.

Here is a man who gives himself the airs of a connoisseur in painting.

This man indulges in airs of meditation, and affects absence of mind.

And this one gives himself grave, reflective, philosophical, and mysterious airs.

Here is a man who gives himself the airs of a patriot. He talks much of moderation, self-abnegation, and order; and thinks he could wear the cross of the Legion of Honour.

This man gives himself the airs of a Sir Charles Coldstream. He has tried everything, and found "nothing in it."

These young ladies give themselves airs of great simplicity—but, no, we can hardly say "give themselves airs," for the simplicity is evidently natural to them.

A gentleman who gives himself the airs of a great draughtsman, and especially affects facility of execution.

Monsieur gives himself the airs of a musician, because he knows just enough to turn over the leaves.

The idiot represented above gives himself the airs of an enemy of the public press.

And here is Idiot No. 2, giving himself the airs of a serious and modest man, who shuts his eyes to the vanity of the world. The fact is, he does not know how to dance.

A race as it appeared to a visitor who had never seen anything of the kind before.

The children should not get in the way —
t then the nurses ought not to be gossiping
th the soldiers.

It is possible to be too near the course in certain emergencies.

"I bet on Staggerer. Don't you see my dear, how he's reserving his strength
— a hundred yards behind the rest — he has the race in hand!"

Sometimes it is inconvenient to be on duty at the races, some horses are so excitable.

"I've ten thousand francs to get from you Monsieur."

"Quite right!"

[And he tries to look as if he rather liked it.]

Choosing a jockey.

Arrival of the winner.

Paganini, who has just won the principal race.

The landlord finds that all his lodgers are gone, and the furniture is gone likewise.

"I've saved twenty-five francs," says young Hopeful, "and I'm off to London!"

Birdseye view of what was passing in the Channel at the Exhibition time.

The steamers are almost inconveniently crowded.

It is very annoying to arrive just in time to see the boat go off.

Section of the Channel, showing its state in 1862. The fishes make up their mind to depart from a region where their privacy is so continually and unprofitably invaded.

The excursion trains are very cheap; but intending passengers will do well to insure their lives.

Condition of travellers who arrived by the late train, and could get no lodgings.

The latest quotations fixed the price of the third part of a bed on the at 300 francs.

Aspect of the ocean during the Exhibition time.

View of an uncivilized island whose precincts been invaded by prospectuses of the Exhibiti

A shilling day. The Exhibition is much crowded. Machinery in motion, including a rotary saw, highly recommended by the inventor, and appreciated by the visitors.

An exhibitor expecting the advent of the Royal party.

Effect produced on the outward appearance of the Parisians by their visit to London.

The Catalogue; especially recommended as portable and easy of reference.

Remarkably limp condition in which the majority visitors leave the building.

It is inconvenient to break a glass eighty feet square when one has only thirty francs in one's pocket.

What a very juvenile visitor saw of the Exhibition.

On his return to Paris, Monsieur Pouponnet introduces to his wife some interesting and agreeable strangers, with whom he has become acquainted during his stay in London.

The artists, editors, and proprietors of the Journal pour Rire desire to announce to the public the sad blow they have sustained in the loss of Dame Political Caricature, who suddenly deceased, at her residence, No. 29 Place de la Bourse.

The public will continue, as heretofore, to look on and to have its pocket picked in front of Aubert's print-shop, which will not cease to be put in a state of siege by the admirers of good caricatures.

The Faubourg St. Germain, somewhat astonished at the march of events, will begin to think that it may have been wrong on certain occasions.

To be looked on with suspicion—Persons who speak of the moon, operations on the Bourse, and reports from California.

Until the resurrection of the journals takes place, advertisers will be compelled to seek new methods of publicity.

The Journal pour Rire will continue to extend its influence, and to penetrate into the most remote solitudes.

Our superfine livery servants, no longer satisfied with the substantial wages they now demand, will expect to be waited on by their masters.

Alexandre Dumas will invent a machine of fifty horse power, by means of which he will manufacture his romances, without seeing them, or touching them, or thinking of them.

The Chinese will continue to welcome, in their liar fashion, all European travellers who choose come to Peking.

Men of science, and more especially men of no science, will continue to seek after aeronautic experiences, and to build castles in the air.

His Majesty King Æolus will continue to have a good deal to say to inventors of aerial ships.

Italian singers will pursue their system of taking their ease, and at last will give the public (and themselves) their airs, seated before their audience.

The generation that's going out will continue to look down with supercilious pity upon the generation that's coming in.

The newspapers will continue more than ever, to publish accounts of sea serpents and other monsters, to spread horror and consternation among their subscribers.

But they will likewise continue, in the morning, to contradict the horrifying facts they have announced overnight.

In short, they will go on making the public believe that their wind-bags are lamps.

The pupils of the "Conservatoire de Musique" will continue to disdain the foolish prejudices associated with their sex.

The notes of the soprani will become higher proportion as their dresses become lower.

Aubert's coloured caricatures will continue to delight children of all ages.

Ever anxious to offer novelty to its patrons, management of the Hippodrome will send for so Esquimaux, and change its arena into a polar sea.

50 PROPHECIES CONCERNING THE FUTURE OF THE FRENCH PEOPLE.

The worthy grocers will continue to dispense their merchandise with the most scrupulous justice. Their weights will be as exact as those of Themis.

Colonists in Algeria will continue to experience varied amenities of colonial life.

Gentlemen of the above profession will continue to be very popular in France, especially among servant maids.

The gold-seeker will find a country full of chaos and excitement for the naturalist, and will end days there very agreeably.

PARIS OUT OF DOORS.

5

A mother and daughter have ventured into the most dangerous part of the Boulevard des Italiens—but it is known that the French are the politest people under the sun.

It is, perhaps, as well to avoid those walks in which Parisian infancy disports itself at certain hours of the day.

INTERIOR OF AN OMNIBUS.

Agreeable choice of neighbours.

In the Champs Elysées the practice of the art of horsemanship is carried on, though a falling off is sometimes apparent.

NATIONAL THEATRE OF GUIGNOL.

Sensation drama!—Terrific combat between Punch and a nameless personage. Discomfiture and death of the latter.

THE NOBLE ART OF HORSEMANSHIP,

As exhibited gratis by the clerks and linendrapers' assistants frequenting the Champs Elysées and the Bois de Boulogne.

SCENES IN THE CHAMPS ELYSÉES.

AERIAL VOYAGE.

Exceedingly cheap, and very agreeable—to those who have not the slightest tendency to dizziness in the head, or sickness in the lower regions.

Family exhibition of feats of agility and skill on the long rope.

This is what is called cold bathing in Paris—and under these circumstances the Parisians are supposed to learn to swim.

Warm baths—supposed to be soft water from the Seine.

RIDING MASTER (loquitur). "When your beast throws up his heels, you have only to hold on tight with your knees, and throw yourself backward."

UNFORTUNATE RIDER. "Yes, but suppose you can't!"

"Ho! hou!"—"Grecian statues" exhibited in the Circus.

AN AMATEUR CONCERT IN A QUIET PROVINCIAL TOWN.

A PICNIC.

'Look out for the cork!'

"The hunt has not been very successful, but we're first-rate huntsmen." Ecce signum!

Innocent and primitive amusement, illustrating the pleasures of hope.

THE TUILERIES GARDENS.

This is what we see in front of the palace from seven to nine o'clock in the morning.

The Basin. The passage across has been achieved in five minutes by the vessel here represented. Great excitement among the spectators.

THE TUILERIES GARDENS.

The Grand Avenue between two and four o'clock in the afternoon.

The walk frequented by nursemaids, and much affected by soldiers.

THE FIRST GLASS OF CHAMPAGNE.

"We shower a welcome on you; welcome all!"

Portraits of our visitors.

Horrible weather!

Some more portraits.

THE ENGLISH IN PARIS.

We do the honours of the city to our guests.

HOSPITALITY UNDER DIFFICULTIES.

The Frenchman understands not a word of English, the Englishmen speak not a syllable of French; so they interchange ideas by signs and play of countenance, after the manner of King Zingataboo of the Cannibal Islands.

Grand International punch-bowl.

Musical union.

Native tailor, struck with admiration of the British costume, takes notes thereof.

Delicate attention. Friendship's offering.

THE ENGLISH IN PARIS.

THE HOTEL DES INVALIDES.

Certain embarrassing recollections would seem to survive among the veterans of the First Empire.

An English melomaniac.

In some particulars we do not shine by our superiority to other nations.

Some of our visitors.

More of our visitors.

Visit to Fattet, the king of dentists.

Come, know the voice that strikes upon thine ear."

"Canst thou not hate, and yet conceal thy hate?"

"He will command thee to return his love."

"Mislike me not for my complexion."

"Fifteen francs for the Salvator Rosa! Fifteen francs! Does anybody say any more? Nobody? Going! going! gone!!! at fifteen francs.

Mademoiselle Euphrasie de Saint Aldebert, decorative artiste for ladies and gentlemen. Private residence, Rue de la Licorne, on the fifth storey above entresol.

The wearing of India-rubber goloshes has been extensively adopted by the Parisian ladies, as a means of compelling the dandies to look higher than their feet.

India shawls, extra broad, to serve a whole family.

What the handsomest shawl and the prettiest woman may come to at last.

SCRAPS.

The present style of playthings.

French shawls of extra width, warranted to go round our greatest Italian contralto.

Stolen delights are sweetest.

"Can I, O maiden, boldly say, I love thee?"

PREPARATION FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF ARTS.

"Monsieur Pedelou receives children as private pupils, and engages to prepare them for their Bachelor's examination in a period of two months. The gymnastic and cephalagic exercise to which their heads are subjected soon leads to the most graceful and satisfactory development."

N.B.—Terms payable in advance.

"My dear friend, there's so much deception going on in Paris, that I suspect those feet are like other feet."

A GUARANTEED DEGREE.

"You will pass next week; this gentleman will your exercise for you."

"Cod Liver Oil — an infallible medicine. At one who once makes use of Cod Liver Oil, will most certainly be cured"—of all inclination ever taste it again

"Drawing without a master, on Madame Cave's method."

N.B.—The style was applied on the walls of Paris long before the lady inventor was born.

What highly polished floors you find everywhere now-a-days; you may admire your toilette in them.

New coffee machines—far preferable to the old ones, inasmuch as they give you an opportunity of remaining a couple of hours longer at table;

At the end of which time they frequently give rise to a blaze of triumph.

THINGS THAT ARE AGREEABLE, ETC.

7

It is very agreeable to pay an annual holiday visit to Paris—especially when it involves a great many visits to your experienced and skilful dentist.

It is very agreeable to meet some one in the street in the evening, of whom you can ask your way, especially if that some one should present the appearance depicted above.

It is very agreeable to have a duck "bred on his own farm" sent to you by your dear provincial friend; especially when sent by express train at an expense of 17 francs, which you have to pay.

"Monsieur, what difference is there between chocolate, and the Chocolate Menier?"
 "Oh, Monsieur, there's a great difference."
 "And what is this difference, may I ask?"
 "Monsieur, ours is much dearer."

The new fashioned English fire-places are especially comfortable—except when something gets into the flue.

This is what happened to the gentlemen who neglected to buy their clothes of Becker, Denior

Gentlemen who wish to be in the fashion as regards charms and knickknacks generally, should visit the emporium of Monsieur Bassot, Rue de la Paix, where they will find an assortment in gold, silver, bronze, &c., &c., lighter and more elegant than those depicted above.

"Monsieur, you say you make hair-come again.

"Certainly, Monsieur, and I offer to forfeit 100,00 francs, 45 centimes to any one who can prove that my wash doesn't make it come."

"What, the hair?"

"No, Monsieur, the money."

SAINT CHARLEMAGNE.

Oh, happy day! when the Minister of Public Instruction shall authorize the collegians to leave off eating haricot beans, and the usher to say nothing when enough water is not put into the wine.

LAST DISH AT THE GREAT DINNER AT SAINT CHARLEMAGNE.

The reading of the prize essay: and it's always the least liked.

SAINT CHARLEMAGNE.

the grand toast, "To Charlemagne—coupled with the name of the usher of study No. 5."

A COLLEGE IN THE MIDDLE AGES

This is the way they were questioned concerning any faults they denied having committed.

THE COLLEGIANS AGAIN.

SAINT CHARLEMAGNE AGAIN.

The result of allowing "a little political discussion" at dessert.

A COLLEGE UNDER LOUIS XV

Chief study of the pupils.

A COLLEGE UNDER THE FIRST EMPIRE

Everything had a military appearance.

THE COLLEGIANS AGAIN.

7

It is not always discreet of a pupil to bow to the usher.

"I say, attendant, can't you and buy me a muffin?"

The advantage of having a relation to whom you can go on holidays. In the morning you may amuse yourself by looking out of the window. In the evening you can play at loto, and go to bed early.

The report reads thus: "Essay, barbarous—Exercise, uncertain—Health good—Appetite, capricious—Temperament, idle, and exceedingly negligent."

"Young rascal!" says Papa.

"Poor little fellow!" says Mamma.

THE COLLEGIANS AGAIN.

"What graceless pupil has dared to put this detestable paper on my table?"

"Monsieur, I have received your requisition to learn five hundred lines, but I shall report the circumstance to the principal."

THE DOCTOR'S VISIT.

"This pupil must be put on a generous diet."
 "He's a very bad pupil!"
 "You must give him roast meat and made dishes."
 "He's an exceedingly bad pupil!!"

Philosophic studies carried farther than usual.

Before taking the Bachelor's degree.

After taking the Bachelor's degree.

A student of philosophy, formed in the school of solitude and misfortune.

A pulse that will not beat at fever pace.

A born mathematician amusing himself.

"All right, Grandmother, I will be back directly. . . give me time to win five and twenty marbles of him

THE COLLEGIANS AGAIN.

"Five hundred lines!
Shall I have a stiff neck
or the colic?"

An usher of 1,500 line power every day.

very of literary and other dainties in the bed of a confirmed invalid.

Two college friends of the old school.

The collegians at the play.
"What conquests brings he home?"

College in China, where the pupils are taught that the Blue
Spirit is hard as porcelain, &c., &c.

My wife says I require the waters.

A rich and used-up man, who often goes to the waters to renovate himself.

When he has drawn all the milk of man kindness out of you, your physician counsels you to go and drink the waters.

"Doctor, you must send me to a watering place where I shall see Henri V."

One of whom forcibly seizes your portmanteau you are delivered up to the assiduities of the hotel touts,

What we take to the waters.

What we often bring back.

On your arrival at the hotel, a list of celebrities who patronize or have patronized the hotel is exhibited to you.

A Russian fecting the waiters.

THE WATERS OF BADEN.

Family who intend to make use of the waters of Baden.

Arrival at Baden. Activity of the German custom house officers.

You can get to Baden by a German railway—express speed, two miles and a half per hour.

Sketch of a waiter at Baden.

View of a staircase in the Hotel du Rhine.

View of the room in which they play at Roulette at Baden. This is the place greatly affected by patients suffering from disease whose cure is dependent on the mind being kept very quiet and free from all excitement.

What a Frenchman does when he loses at Roulette.

What an Englishman does when he loses at Roulette.

What a German does when he loses at Roulette.

The player whom fortune has favoured at Roulette does not return home without the protection of military escort.

Unfortunate gamester who has nothing more to lose, and yet cannot "quit the waters."

Daily concerts of saxhorns in the Conversation Saloons.

This is how we must converse while the concert is going on.

These are people who have come to the waters to get cured of a chronic disease.

Lively interchange of thought in the Conversation Saloon of Baden.

A German novelist.

Three Prussian officers, as they appeared walking in the Conversation Saloon

THE WATERS OF BADEN.

8

Lively and interesting conversation on a fine evening at Baden.

A TABLE D'HÔTE AT THE WATERS.

Moral sufferings of the invalids, who observe the manners and customs of the convalescent.

Inconvenience of meeting old acquaintances when you are out walking with your family.

But it is far worse to meet the gentleman whose mortal challenge in Paris was the chief reason of your visit to Baden.

If you want to make acquaintances, you need only pass the salt to a gentleman at table,

And he'll stick to you like a brother.

Sentimental English lady, who is decided out.

THE WATERS OF BADEN.

questrian excursion on the mountains in the neighbourhood of Baden.

The other side of the mountain—and of the expedition.

Our medical man : a charming creature but you must not, for your life, speak word to him about your health.

A sentimental French bather.

Musical attractions at the waters this year.

THE WATERS OF BADEN.

uch manner of taking he waters of Baden.

Agreeable method in ch visitors are escorted ough the apartments
His Serene Highness Grandissimo Duke of len.

Extract from Guide Book :—"At about a mile from Baden you will come upon the ruins of the majestic castle of Baden."

"Monsieur Milord, no smokallowed in this walk, except n eight to ten."

A dog who has ventured into a Baden promenade.

"Monsieur, it is forbidden to gather mushrooms."

Germanic confederations to be seen in the promenades at Baden.

A villa at Baden. Doves to be let to any two doves who object to being pigeoned at the hotel.

 END OF THE PROJECT GUTENBERG EBOOK TWO HUNDRED SKETCHES HUMOROUS AND GROTESQUE ***

Updated editions will replace the previous one—the old editions will be renamed.

Creating the works from print editions not protected by U.S. copyright law means that no one owns a United States copyright in these works, so the Foundation (and you!) can copy and distribute it in the United States without permission and without paying copyright royalties. Special rules, set forth in the General Terms of Use part of this license, apply to copying and distributing Project Gutenberg™ electronic works to protect the PROJECT GUTENBERG™ concept and trademark. Project Gutenberg is a registered trademark, and may not be used if you charge for an eBook, except by following the terms of the trademark license, including paying royalties for use of the Project Gutenberg trademark. If you do not charge anything for copies of this eBook, complying with the trademark license is very easy. You may use this eBook for nearly any purpose such as creation of derivative works, reports, performances and research. Project Gutenberg eBooks may be modified and printed and given away—you may do practically ANYTHING in the United States with eBooks not protected by U.S. copyright law. Redistribution is subject to the trademark license, especially commercial redistribution.

START: FULL LICENSE

THE FULL PROJECT GUTENBERG™ LICENSE

PLEASE READ THIS BEFORE YOU DISTRIBUTE OR USE THIS WORK

To protect the Project Gutenberg™ mission of promoting the free distribution of electronic works, by using or distributing this work (or any other work associated in any way with the phrase “Project Gutenberg”), you agree to comply with all the terms of the Full Project Gutenberg License available with this file or online at www.gutenberg.org/license.

Section 1. General Terms of Use and Redistributing Project Gutenberg electronic works

1.A. By reading or using any part of this Project Gutenberg electronic work, you indicate that you have read, understand, agree to and accept all the terms of this license and intellectual property (trademark/copyright) agreement. If you do not agree to abide by all the terms of this agreement, you must cease using and return or destroy all copies of Project Gutenberg electronic works in your possession. If you paid a fee for obtaining a copy of or access to a Project Gutenberg electronic work and you do not agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement, you may obtain a refund from the person or entity to whom you paid the fee as set forth in paragraph 1.E.8.

1.B. “Project Gutenberg” is a registered trademark. It may only be used on or associated in any way with an electronic work by people who agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement. There are a few things that you can do with most Project Gutenberg electronic works even without complying with the full terms of this agreement. See paragraph 1.C below. There are a lot of things you can do with Project Gutenberg electronic works if you follow the terms of this agreement and help preserve free future access to Project Gutenberg electronic works. See paragraph 1.E below.

1.C. The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation (“the Foundation” or PGLAF), owns a compilation copyright in the collection of Project Gutenberg electronic works. Nearly all the individual works in the collection are in the public domain in the United States. If an individual work is unprotected by copyright law in the United States and you are located in the United States, we do not claim a right to prevent you from copying, distributing, performing, displaying or creating derivative works based on the work as long as all references to Project Gutenberg are removed. Of course, we hope that you will support the Project Gutenberg mission of promoting free access to electronic works by freely sharing Project Gutenberg works in compliance with the terms of this agreement for keeping the Project Gutenberg name associated with the work. You can easily comply with the terms of this agreement by keeping this work in the same format with its attached full Project Gutenberg License when you share it without charge with others.

1.D. The copyright laws of the place where you are located also govern what you can do with this work. Copyright laws in most countries are in a constant state of change. If you are outside the United States, check the laws of your country in addition to the terms of this agreement before downloading, copying, displaying, performing, distributing or creating derivative works based on this work or any other Project Gutenberg work. The Foundation makes no representations concerning the copyright status of any work in any country other than the United States.

1.E. Unless you have removed all references to Project Gutenberg:

1.E.1. The following sentence, with active links to, or other immediate access to, the full Project Gutenberg License must appear prominently whenever any copy of a Project Gutenberg work (any work on which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” appears, or with which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” is associated) is accessed, displayed, performed, viewed, copied or distributed:

This eBook is for the use of anyone anywhere in the United States and most other parts of the world at no cost and with almost no restrictions whatsoever. You may copy it, give it away or re-use it under the terms of the Project Gutenberg™ License included with this eBook or online at www.gutenberg.org. If you are not located in the United States, you will have to check the laws of the country where you are located before using this eBook.

1.E.2. If an individual Project Gutenberg electronic work is derived from texts not protected by U.S. copyright law (does not contain a notice indicating that it is posted with permission of the copyright holder), the work can be copied and distributed to anyone in the United States without paying any fees or charges. If you are redistributing or providing access to a work with the phrase “Project Gutenberg” associated with or appearing on the work, you must comply either with the requirements of paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 or obtain permission for the use of the work and the Project Gutenberg trademark as set forth in paragraphs 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.3. If an individual Project Gutenberg electronic work is posted with the permission of the copyright holder, your use and distribution must comply with both paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 and any additional terms imposed by the copyright holder. Additional terms will be linked to the Project Gutenberg License for all works posted with the permission of the copyright holder found at the beginning of this work.

1.E.4. Do not unlink or detach or remove the full Project Gutenberg License terms from this work, or any files containing a part of this work or any other work associated with Project Gutenberg.

1.E.5. Do not copy, display, perform, distribute or redistribute this electronic work, or any part of this electronic work, without prominently displaying the sentence set forth in paragraph 1.E.1 with active links or immediate access to the full terms of the Project Gutenberg License.

1.E.6. You may convert to and distribute this work in any binary, compressed, marked up, nonproprietary or proprietary form, including any word processing or hypertext form. However, if you provide access to or distribute copies of a Project Gutenberg work in a format other than “Plain Vanilla ASCII” or other format used in the official version posted on the official Project Gutenberg website (www.gutenberg.org), you must, at no additional cost, fee or expense to the user, provide a copy, a means of exporting a copy, or a means of obtaining a copy upon request, of the work in its original “Plain Vanilla ASCII” or other form. Any alternate format must include the full Project Gutenberg License as specified in paragraph 1.E.1.

1.E.7. Do not charge a fee for access to, viewing, displaying, performing, copying or distributing any Project Gutenberg works unless you comply with paragraph 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.8. You may charge a reasonable fee for copies of or providing access to or distributing Project Gutenberg electronic works provided that:

- You pay a royalty fee of 20% of the gross profits you derive from the use of Project Gutenberg works calculated using the method you already use to calculate your applicable taxes. The fee is owed to the owner of the Project Gutenberg trademark, but he has agreed to donate royalties under this paragraph to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation. Royalty payments must be paid within 60 days following each date on which you prepare (or are legally required to prepare) your periodic tax returns. Royalty payments should be clearly marked as such and sent to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation at the address specified in Section 4, "Information about donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation."
- You provide a full refund of any money paid by a user who notifies you in writing (or by e-mail) within 30 days of receipt that s/he does not agree to the terms of the full Project Gutenberg™ License. You must require such a user to return or destroy all copies of the works possessed in a physical medium and discontinue all use of and all access to other copies of Project Gutenberg™ works.
- You provide, in accordance with paragraph 1.F.3, a full refund of any money paid for a work or a replacement copy, if a defect in the electronic work is discovered and reported to you within 90 days of receipt of the work.
- You comply with all other terms of this agreement for free distribution of Project Gutenberg™ works.

1.E.9. If you wish to charge a fee or distribute a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work or group of works on different terms than are set forth in this agreement, you must obtain permission in writing from the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the manager of the Project

Gutenberg™ trademark. Contact the Foundation as set forth in Section 3 below.

1.F.

1.F.1. Project Gutenberg volunteers and employees expend considerable effort to identify, do copyright research on, transcribe and proofread works not protected by U.S. copyright law in creating the Project Gutenberg™ collection. Despite these efforts, Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, and the medium on which they may be stored, may contain “Defects,” such as, but not limited to, incomplete, inaccurate or corrupt data, transcription errors, a copyright or other intellectual property infringement, a defective or damaged disk or other medium, a computer virus, or computer codes that damage or cannot be read by your equipment.

1.F.2. LIMITED WARRANTY, DISCLAIMER OF DAMAGES - Except for the “Right of Replacement or Refund” described in paragraph 1.F.3, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the owner of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark, and any other party distributing a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work under this agreement, disclaim all liability to you for damages, costs and expenses, including legal fees. YOU AGREE THAT YOU HAVE NO REMEDIES FOR NEGLIGENCE, STRICT LIABILITY, BREACH OF WARRANTY OR BREACH OF CONTRACT EXCEPT THOSE PROVIDED IN PARAGRAPH 1.F.3. YOU AGREE THAT THE FOUNDATION, THE TRADEMARK OWNER, AND ANY DISTRIBUTOR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT WILL NOT BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR ACTUAL, DIRECT, INDIRECT, CONSEQUENTIAL, PUNITIVE OR INCIDENTAL DAMAGES EVEN IF YOU GIVE NOTICE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGE.

1.F.3. LIMITED RIGHT OF REPLACEMENT OR REFUND - If you discover a defect in this electronic work within 90 days of receiving it, you can receive a refund of the money (if any) you paid for it by sending a written explanation to the person you received the work from. If you received the work on a physical medium, you must return the medium with your written explanation. The person or entity that provided you with the defective work may elect to provide a replacement copy in lieu of a refund. If you received the work electronically, the person or entity providing it to you may choose to give you a second opportunity to receive the work electronically in lieu of a refund. If the second copy is also defective, you may demand a refund in writing without further opportunities to fix the problem.

1.F.4. Except for the limited right of replacement or refund set forth in paragraph 1.F.3, this work is provided to you 'AS-IS', WITH NO OTHER WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR ANY PURPOSE.

1.F.5. Some states do not allow disclaimers of certain implied warranties or the exclusion or limitation of certain types of damages. If any disclaimer or limitation set forth in this agreement violates the law of the state applicable to this agreement, the agreement shall be interpreted to make the maximum disclaimer or limitation permitted by the applicable state law. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this agreement shall not void the remaining provisions.

1.F.6. INDEMNITY - You agree to indemnify and hold the Foundation, the trademark owner, any agent or employee of the Foundation, anyone providing copies of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works in accordance with this agreement, and any volunteers associated with the production, promotion and distribution of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, harmless from all liability, costs and expenses, including legal fees, that arise directly or indirectly from any of the following which you do or cause to occur: (a) distribution of this or any Project Gutenberg work, (b) alteration, modification, or additions or deletions to any Project Gutenberg work, and (c) any Defect you cause.

Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg

Project Gutenberg is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg's goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org.

Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's business office is located at 41 Watchung Plaza #516, Montclair NJ 07042, USA, +1 (862) 621-9288. Email contact links and up to date contact information can be found at the Foundation's website and official page at www.gutenberg.org/contact

Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project Gutenberg™ depends upon and cannot survive without widespread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine-readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate.

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate.

Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg electronic works

Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project Gutenberg concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project Gutenberg eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our website which has the main PG search facility:
www.gutenberg.org.

This website includes information about Project Gutenberg, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.